This entails 1) forecasting the social and economic benefits that electrification is assumed to deliver regarding education and women s lives; 2) assessing negative perceptions of users, which have been established through the slow uptake of electricity; 3) making recommendations as to how these perceptions could be addressed in policy development and in the continuing electrification program; 4) making recommendations to policy makers on how to suport and make optimal use of current energy-use practices where these are socio-economically sound; 5) identifying misinformation and wasteful practices; and 6) other recommendations, which will significantly improve the success of the rural electrification program in a socio-economically sound manner, as identified in the course of the work.
